

WARFARE OF WORDS
STIRRED UP HOUSE

CONFLICT BETWEEN SPEAKER
REED AND MR. BAILEY.

Reed Denies a Statement—Cuban Discussion Leads Up to an Exciting Incident—Question of Veracity Involved—Mr. Teller's Silver Resolution in the Senate.

Washington, Jan. 21.—Speaker Reed, from the rostrum of the house, and Mr. Bailey, leader of the democrats, from his place on the floor, glared at each other at the close of the Cuban debate Thursday and joined an issue of veracity. This sensational episode completely overshadowed the interest in the Cuban debate, which was continued uninterruptedly in the house for three days during the consideration of the diplomatic and consular appropriation bill. Wednesday notice was given by Mr. Williams (dem., Miss.) that at the conclusion of the debate a motion would be made to recommit the bill, with instructions. Thursday when the motion was made by Mr. Bailey it was ruled out of order by the speaker. Mr. Bailey thereupon startled the house by affirming that he had a private understanding with the speaker by which a vote should be taken directly on the motion to recommit. This the speaker emphatically denied, and these two leaders of their respective parties in the house, with white faces and voices shaken by emotion, set their statements against each other, while the galleries looked on in breathless amazement and the members were in an uproar. The result of the speaker's position was that an appeal was taken from his decision, and by a strict party vote it was laid on the table—168 to 114—the democrats and populists, as on the two previous days, voting against the solid republican strength.

Mr. Clark (dem., Mo.) opened the debate with a speech advocating the recognition of the insurgents as belligerents.

Mr. Williams (dem., Wis.), a member of the foreign affairs committee, sneered at the statement of Mr. Hitt that the granting of belligerency rights to the Cubans would afford them no advantage.

Mr. King (dem., Utah), who has recently returned from a visit to Cuba, characterized the scheme of autonomy as a delusion, and declared if peace came on that basis Spain would saddle the war debt on Cuba. Permanent peace could not come to the island until independence was achieved.

Mr. Johnson (rep., Ind.), in a fifteen-minute speech sustained the course of the administration. The President, he said, had displayed good sense, sound judgment and exalted patriotism.

Mr. Simpson (pop., Kan.), speaking for the third party, said he was satisfied that the real secret behind the attitude of the administration was the fact that the holders of Spanish bonds—$400,000,000 in amount—were not yet satisfied that they would get their money.

Mr. Dingley (rep., Me.) took the floor to reply to remarks made during the course of the debate relative to the wage reductions in the cotton industry. He admitted that the depression in the cotton industry was unfortunate, but the cause was exceptional. It was due to the sudden and unexpected decline in the price of cotton. In three months the price had declined 30 per cent, because the Southern planters insisted upon growing 2,000,000 bales more cotton than the world wanted.

The Cuban question was temporarily lost sight of, and for more than an hour tariff was talked, to the exclusion of everything else.

At 4 o'clock the committee rose under the arrangement made Wednesday and reported the bill to the house. One of the most dramatic and sensational episodes of this congress followed. Mr. Bailey suddenly electrified the house with the statement that he had a distinct understanding with the speaker of the house that the amendment should be debated.

"The chair states that the gentleman from Texas is mistaken," retorted the speaker in the most emphatic tones. "The chair never agreed that a motion which was plainly out of order would be entertained. The gentleman notified me that there would be no further opposition."

"And I make the statement," declared Mr. Bailey, without flinching, "that we did have such an agreement."

"The chair again states that no agreement was made," said the speaker.

The confusion at this point was very great, but the voice of Mr. Smith (rep., Mich.) could be heard shouting above the tumult that he had been present, and that no agreement had been made.

Mr. Bailey thereupon appealed from the decision of the chair, and Mr. Dingley moved to lay the appeal on the table. The roll was called amid much confusion, but party lines were unbroken, and by a vote of 168 to 114 the appeal was laid on the table.

The bill was then passed, 158 to 95, and the house adjourned.

SILVER IN THE SENATE.

Teller Resolution Taken Up—Mr. Vest Supports the Project.

Washington, Jan. 21.—By the decisive vote of 41 to 25 the senate Thursday decided to proceed at once to the consideration of the resolution introduced by Mr. Teller (col.) providing for the payment of bonds of the United States in silver at the option of the government.

Mr. Vest spoke in favor of the resolution. He said that twenty years had passed since the Stanley Matthews resolution was first put on the statute books, but he believed that there was now reason why there should be reiteration of the resolution and the declarations contained in it. Mr. Vest maintained that if the resolution was originally correct and proper it was correct and proper at the present time. "It does not in any sense," said Mr. Vest, "involve either repudiation or dishonor."

The senator maintained that the issue involving the consideration of the resolution had been thrust upon the senate by the administration, and that senators were required either to remain silent and by their silence give tacit assent to the recent declarations of the secretary of the treasury in favor of a gold standard—those declarations being evidently indorsed by the President—or else to reaffirm the Stanley Matthews resolution, which had been passed by the senate by a vote of more than two to one and by the house by an overwhelming majority. "It will be recalled," said Mr. Vest, "that the present President of the United States was then a member of the house and voted for the resolution."

Mr. Vest held that the time had now arrived when the country must either go to a gold standard or make the last and overwhelming contest for the financial system which he believed a great majority of the people were in favor of.

The Missouri senator was proceeding with his remarks when the vice president, the hour of 2 o'clock having arrived, laid before the senate the unfinished business, the census bill. Mr. Vest moved to lay aside the unfinished business and to proceed with the discussion of the Teller resolution. The motion prevailed without division, the effect being to make the resolution the unfinished business.

Mr. Vest then yielded to a suggestion of Mr. Aldrich that further consideration of the resolution be postponed until to-day, in order that those opposing it might have opportunity to prepare for the debate.

MILL MEN ARE FIRM.

Strikers Concede Nothing—State Arbitrator's Mission Fails.

Boston, Mass., Jan. 21.—The fourth day of the cotton-mill strike passed and there has not been a sign of weakening on the part of either manufacturers or operatives. The situation at New Bedford has been complicated by the action of the weavers in forcing a second issue, and State Arbitrator Richard P. Barry has been in that city all day in conference with the labor leaders, his mission being to persuade them to withdraw it. He was unsuccessful, however.

The discontent at Fall River is growing and there is general uneasiness among the operatives. The weavers claim the cut, instead of being 11 1/2 per cent, as stated by the manufacturers, is in most cases 16 per cent, and in some as high as 18 per cent.

The principal strikes are in Massachusetts and in Maine. Outside of these there are 300 cotton operatives out at the Queen City mills at Burlington, Vt., and 200 woolen operatives out at the Metcalfs' mills at Geneva and Wausau, R. I. In Massachusetts and Maine 16,000 cotton operatives are on strike, and mill property valued at $25,000,000 lies idle.

Will Disperse Mobs.

Paris, Jan. 21.—Over 2,000 students started a demonstration Thursday evening on the Boulevard St. Michael. They tried to cross the River Seine, but the police prevented them. About sixty of the students were arrested. There has been a small anti-Jewish demonstration at Rouen. Another student demonstration has taken place at Algiers.

The minister of the interior, M. Barthou, at a cabinet meeting, informed his colleagues that measures had been taken to prevent street demonstrations. He added that the proposed demonstration on Sunday will be prohibited. The trial of Emile Zola will begin before the Assize court Feb. 7.

Peoria, Ill., Jan. 21.—At the session of the Bricklayers and Masons' International union Thursday resolutions were adopted providing that some time during the year, to be fixed by the executive board, the secretary shall call for a vote from subordinate bodies for or against the establishment of a universal eight-hour work day starting May 1, 1899, return of vote to be made not later than Nov. 1, 1898. ENGLISH VESSELS AT ESQUIMAULT PUT IN CONDITION.

Must All Be In Readiness—Every Vessel in the Fleet Prepared to Sail For the East With Forty-Eight Hours' Notice—Scenes of Activity in the Dockyards

Victoria, B. C., Jan. 21.—Orders have been received at Esquimault by Rear-Admiral Palliser from the admiralty instructing him to have every vessel in his fleet ready to start for China on forty-eight hours' notice.

Immediately all was bustle around the dock yards, the crews of the different vessels being busily engaged rushing coal and provisions on board. Then came an order for her majesty's ship Phœnix to start on her trip across the Pacific today, she being nearer ready than the others. Tonight she is well out to sea. Later instructions were received for her majesty's ship Imperious, the flagship of the station, to proceed to the scene of activity. She will start Saturday. It is not known whether Admiral Palliser will accompany her.

It is not likely unless the conditions in the orient reach a climax that the other vessels at present here will be ordered there. The Icarus is only a small vessel and the Phaetón and Leander, having just completed a long voyage, are in need of some repairs. In fact, the Leander is already in the dry dock and the Phaetón is to follow her. It is not known just where her majesty's ship Amplex is at present, but she has probably completed her work at Cohos island and is coming north, being under orders to report at Esquimault. The torpedo boat Destroyer will remain at Esquimault. The next order is one to have the armament of the boats ready to be shipped on short notice.

CONFESSES TO MURDER.

Mrs. Anna Wollert Tells How She Killed Her Little Stepdaughter.

Woodstock, Ill., Jan. 21.—Mrs. Anna Wollert, who murdered her stepdaughter at Algonquin on Tuesday of last week, was arraigned before Judge Donnelly in the circuit court Thursday and made a full confession of her crime, entering a plea of guilty to the charge of murder.

Mrs. Wollert was perfectly cool and self-possessed, but was in such a feeble condition that she was allowed to remain seated while telling her story, the substance of which was as follows:

"On the day of the murder Louisa and I were washing dishes. I told her to wash some of them over again, as they were still dirty. She became angry and brushed them from the table to the floor. I then went into the pantry to sweep, after which I placed the broom in the corner and sat down. The girl appeared in the doorway with a revolver and fired at me, saying: 'There's one for you; guess that will satisfy you.'"

"The shot missed me and the girl threw the revolver on the bed. She then secured a broom handle and commenced beating me over the hand and shoulders. I tried to secure the broomstick, but could not. I then got hold of the revolver and shot at Louisa. This shot struck her in the head. The girl turned and I fired the second and final shot, which entered her shoulder. She started upstairs and nearly reached the top, when she fell backward, and crawled to the bedroom, where she died. The child tied the apron around her own neck, and it was while I was trying to remove the apron from her neck that she bit me on the finger."

Mrs. Wollert admitted to the court that she was sorry for her act, and after her confession she was removed to her cell, the court reserving sentence. The general opinion seems to be that a life sentence will be imposed.

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 21.—Capt. Swift, U. S. A., attached to the adjutant-general's staff, received a telegram from the war department asking him to transmit to Washington at once details of the strength and equipment of the Illinois national guard. DEADLOCK ON CONTROL BOARD.

Iowa Senate Favors Broad Powers and House Opposed to the Plan.

Des Moines, Iowa, Jan. 21.—The indications now are that there will be a deadlock between the senate and house on the board of control. The senate has referred the report on state institutions to the ways and means committee. Senator Funk, chairman of the committee, has named the following staunch advocates of a board of control as a subcommittee to prepare a bill: Senators Funk, Berry, Healy, Junkin, Carney and Everall.

Senator Healy left for Albany in search of information to aid in preparing a bill. Senator Carney will leave Monday for Wisconsin on the same mission. When they return a bill will be introduced in the senate which is undoubtedly in favor of a board having wide powers.

The house, on the contrary, will be led by Representative Merriam, who filed the minority report favoring a board of control with merely supervisory powers.

SUES TO RECOVER DAMAGES

Former Pupil At the State School a Plaintiff At Ashland.

Medar Allyn, a former student at the school for the blind in this city is now the plaintiff in an interesting law suit in Ashland. Allyn was struck by a bundle of wrapping paper thrown from a Wis. & Mich. car and his attorneys are trying to show that the injury affected his eyesight seriously. The defense is of course combating this. Miss L. M. Mosher, a former teacher in the school for the blind, is one of the important witnesses.

The plaintiff had Dr. Wright of Minneapolis, who is the author of a text book on the disease of the eye, and Dr. Ellwood, of Menominee, and the defense summoned Dr. Wurdeman of Milwaukee, a celebrated oculist, and Dr. Bedellings of Ashland. Several human skulls were used by the physicians in giving their testimony.

WHISKEY WITHOUT ANY ODOR

Breath of the Toper Will No Longer Tell the Tale.

"I will wager any amount of money that you may take any number of drinks of this whiskey and then go in the presence of ladies and they will not be able to detect the odor of liquor on your breath," said Morris Epstein, a well known representative of a Louisville, Ky., whiskey firm yesterday. This brand of whiskey is "the very latest thing out," and is a novelty in the strong drink line. It is rather expensive as it retails for twenty-five cents a drink, but the possibilities in its use are great.

J. A. Perkins, of Antiquity, O., was for thirty years needlessly tortured by physicians for the cure of eczema. He was quickly cured by using DeWitt's With Hazel salve the famous healing salve for piles and skin diseases. C. D. Stevens.

UP AT EVANSVILLECONGRESSMAN COOPER WRITES LETTERS.

Says the President's Wish Is Equivalent to a Command and That He Thinks People Will Agree With Him As to His Duty in the Matter.

Evansville, Wis., Jan. 20—The beginning of the end of the postoffice fight is in sight. The various candidates, except Miss Andrews, have received letters from Congressman Cooper in which he says that in a personal talk with President McKinley Jan. 13, 1898, the latter informed him of his "sincere desire to appoint Miss Andrews in recognition of the personal friendship he held for her brother, and for the latter's great service to the party." At the same time the president mentioned the fact that Miss Andrews was strongly endorsed for the position by a large number of the patrons of the office.

The president further informed Mr. Cooper that he had his (McKinley's) full permission to inform the applicants at Evansville of his desire in the premises.

The following is quoted verbatim from one of Mr. Cooper's letters:

Of course in cases like this the expressed wish of the president is equivalent to a command. It has been so considered by other members of the present congress in the few instances in which the president has expressed a similar wish. I think you will agree as to what my duty is. I have no doubt that the various applicants for the appointment will recognize the situation and our mutual relations to it.

You may exhibit this letter or state its contents, in your discretion, to friends in Evansville, to other correspondents at which place I shall address similar communications.

MARK THEIR SILVER WEDDING

Rev. and Mrs. C. J. Koerner Celebrate Twenty-Fifth Anniversary.

Rev. and Mrs. C. J. Koerner marked their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary, last evening. They were married at Baltimore on January 15, 1873, one year after Mr. Koerner had been ordained as a minister. In August, 1872, he settled in Whitewater, where he preached for eight years. From Whitewater he went to Helenville, where the next eleven years of his work in the Lord's vineyard were spent. Seven years ago he accepted the pastorate of St. Paul's Lutheran church, and has since been an honored resident of this city.

The church was packed to the doors in honor of the able pastor and his good wife, last night. Rev. John Schlerf of Milwaukee, preached, and during the exercises, Herman Lempe and George W. Yahn acted as spokesmen in presenting Rev. and Mrs. Koerner with a handsome gold lined sterling silver tea set, suitably engraved. The elegant gift was a token of appreciation from the congregation. Many private individuals also remembered the pastor and his wife with presents of silver and china. Supper was served at the parsonage, after the celebration.

NEW KIND OF HORSE TRADE

"Unslight and Unseen" Rules Are Adopted by J. C. Chadwick.

John C. Chadwick, who moved from this city to Monroe, has received a fancy horse from St. Louis. The name of the horse is Queen Almont, she is seven years old, has a mark of 2:21 and stands seventeen hands high. Old timers say she is the soundest, fastest, big mare in America. She was beaten a head in 2:16 and trotted the last quarter in 31 1/2 seconds. Mr. Chadwick will not race her but will drive her to his trap. He traded for the animal with D. W. Layton, of St. Louis and never saw the man or the horse at the time the trade was made. It was a two for one trade as Mr. Chadwick gave a fast bay pacer and a brown gelding for the horse. Both men shipped the horses the same day and each man paid his own freight.

TOUGH BOYS AT EVANSVILLE

Editor Libby Gives a Sentence or Two of Advice

The Evansville Tribune says: "People wishing to learn where the tough element of the town originates, should visit the depot when trains are due, and note the youngsters there with mouths full of tobacco, cigarettes or pipes, who ought to be at school. We think there is a law relative to youngsters attending school, which should be enforced in such cases, for the ignorant are the worst element we have to contend with, and there is no excuse for anyone not obtaining an education with such splendid facilities as there are here, and if any are so blind that they cannot see this or want see it, they should be enforced to."

OPEN UP A NEW WHEAT LINE

Chicago & Northwestern Road Said To Be Making Plans.

It is said that the Northwestern company will soon come into possession of a prominent road that taps the wheat-belt of the Red River of the North, and that freight for Chicago will be shipped over the Janesville and Fond du Lac divisions. Certain it is that strange engines and strange crews are coming to this division, and that the company still retains an extra force of firemen at Janesville, which is taken to mean that the company is making preparations for the predicted purchases.

ARCHITECTURAL DESIGNS.

DESIGN FOR SUMMER HOME.

Elegant and Commodious Dwelling That Can Be Built For $7,000.

[Copyright, 1898, by George Palliser, 32 Park place, New York.]

In planning and building a house for country use in the summer time only many points can be simplified and the cost cut down.

No heating apparatus is required, and the portiere opening between the rooms on the main floor answers as well as the more expensive sliding doors and double partitions necessitated thereby. Open brick house are ample closet room, particularly a large one under the stairs in the hall, and a window at the top of the stairs. The latter, aside from the lovely view therefrom, is indispensable for ventilation up stairs. We have also two opposite windows in the attic which are wonderful coolers in summer.

COLONIAL COTTAGE PLAN.

Designed With Special Reference to Kitchen Isolation—Costs $5,000.

[Copyright, 1898, by George Palliser, 32 Park place, New York.]

In all buildings for domestic uses two of the things especially to be considered are heating and cooking. The perfection of the kitchen begins with this latter end in view, which is a consummation more devoutly to be wished than any other, for all of the rest are really dependent upon this for success. No housekeeper can be happy and contented unless the kitchen is running in the right groove and the complete, with all sewer and water connections to street mains.

Exterior, shingle finish throughout, shingles having two coats creosote stain; casings, cornices and trimming work painted bronze green; balance finished with spar varnish.

Cost to build, finished as above, $5,000.

"How many rooms have they?"

THE PASSING OF SPAIN.

Tricken Bankrupt and Impotent with That She Can Never Pay.

Spain's mineral wealth is greater than that of almost any other European country; 80 per cent of her soil is reckoned as productive and her varied climate makes possible a great range of agricultural products, says the Outlook. There has been no considerable war since the days of Napoleon to waste her resources and her geographical position has so protected her that she has been spared the great expenditures for fleets and standing armies which other nations have had to meet. But, in spite of all this, she is today stricken bankrupt and impotent, with debts which she can never meet, with the highest rate of illiteracy in Europe, excepting that of Portugal and the Italian islands (in 1898, the latest date for which figures can be found, 7.15 per cent could neither read nor write), and without even that hope for the future which a normally increasing population would give. From 1860 to 1877 the annual increase of population was one-third of 1 per cent and in the next ten years it was one-half of 1 per cent per annum. The rate for England for the period most nearly corresponding to the last decade was 11.65. Russia alone with her vast stretches of arctic steppes to be taken into account, has a lower average density of population than Spain. The latter has but eighty-eight inhabitants to the square mile; the average for England is 497. The Spanish fields today are vacant, the towns so strangely empty that they seem unreal.

MRS. LYNES ESCAPES

The Hospital and a Fearful Operation.

Hospitals in great cities are sad places to visit. Three-fourths of the patients lying on those snow-white beds are women and girls.

Why should this be the case? Because they have neglected themselves! Women as a rule attach too little importance to first symptoms of a certain kind. If they have toothache, they will try to save the tooth, though many leave even this too late. They comfort themselves with the thought that they can replace their teeth; but they cannot replace their internal organs!

Every one of those patients in the hospital beds had plenty of warnings in the form of bearing-down feelings, pain at the right or left of the womb, nervous dyspepsia, pain in the small of the back, the "blues," or some other unnatural symptom, but they did not heed them.

Don't drag along at home or in the shop until you are finally obliged to go to the hospital and submit to horrible examinations and operations! Build up the female organs. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will save you from the hospital. It will put new life into you.

The following letter shows how Mrs. Lyness escaped the hospital and a fearful operation. Her experience should encourage other women to follow her example. She says to Mrs. Pinkham:

"I thank you very much for what you have done for me, for I had given up in despair. Last February, I had a miscarriage caused by overwork. It affected my heart, caused me to have sinking spells three to four a day, lasting sometimes half a day. I could not be left alone. I flowed constantly. The doctor called twice a day for a week, and once a day for four weeks, then three or four times a week for four months. Finally he said I would have to undergo an operation. Then I commenced taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and after one week I began to recover and steadily improved until I was cured completely. By taking the Pinkham medicine, I avoided an operation which the doctor said I would certainly have to undergo. I am gaining every day and will cheerfully tell anyone what you have done for me."—Mrs. THOS. LYNES, 10 Frederick St., Rochester, N. Y.

MORE BUTTER MADE FROM EVERY COW

ROCK COUNTY DAIRYING INTEREST GROWS.

Farmers Have Given More Time to the Improvement of Stock and Get Larger Quantities of Milk—Reasons Why Tests Very Often Run Lower.

Important dairying questions are touched upon by R. R. Carlson in his annual report to the Footville creamery. He writes to The Gazette as follows:

Statement from Footville creamery for year ending December 31, 1897. Money paid patrons $16,123.99. Milk received 2,543,546 lbs. Butter made 112,981 lbs. Average yield per hundred of milk 4.44.

Average oil test 3.82. Average price of butter 17.37 cents per pound.

Net price to patrons 14.37 cents after deducting 3.1 cents for making. Highest price charged for making 31. Lowest price 2.5 cents in flush of season.

Average net price to patrons per hundred for milk 63 cents for the year.

The average yield of butter has constantly gained each year since the factory started six years ago which shows that there is an effort being made to improve. Some farmers have had a decreased yield during this period although they claim they are feeding better. It seems strange to them that their yield should decrease.

It is really caused in this way. Six years ago when they were not giving the cow and milk question much thought, they were underfeeding their cows and the result was the cows were strippers the year round and of course had a high test. Those same farmers are beginning to learn that in order to have the cow give milk in sufficient quantities to pay her way, and leave a profit it is absolutely necessary for them to feed her a surplus of food above barely the necessary amount to keep life in existence. They are beginning to learn that the cow is simply a separator and the more food they can persuade her to consume the quicker they can convert the product of the farm into money. They realize the necessity of proportioning the different kinds of food, so as not to feed more of some kinds than the cow can utilize, thus causing a loss. While their tests have decreased in some instances their milk has largely increased, and they are getting more money per cow now than they did with their strippers, high tests and little milk. The factory's yield of milk has grown much faster in pounds than the comparative increase in cows.

The only reason I can give for the increased yield of butter per hundred of milk, with the increased quantity of milk per cow, is the effort being made by farmers to advance the standard of the cow.

The Footville factory has kept two small tests expressly to loan to patrons, giving the full equipment, acid and all, with information how to use it; and the amount of time the testers are out, and the number that use them, proves that farmers are trying to improve. The results prove that the progressive ones are in the advance. Others imagine they see a penny in the distance and spend a dollar to get the penny. The natural law of supply and demand governs the price of butter and every other article of commerce and there cannot be as much difference between prices at two factories equally well managed as there is in the ability of the management of the cow on the farm.

It is a common expression among farmers that the creamery manager makes the price and makes the test and the yield and "uses me well this month and poor last month." Speaking from the creamery's side of the question I tell you would make the yield better and the price better if he could. Competition is the supreme ruler in every case.

One of my patrons called the other day on a neighbor that is hauling his milk to a neighboring creamery, some distance away. My patron not being posted on the price he had received per hundred for milk last month, was asked what he got for his milk, which is a common question. He said he thought he got 60 or 65 cents per hundred. The neighbor, I, as I will call him, informed my patron that he was being robbed, and that he got 90 cents per hundred. My patron felt downhearted and bad, and when he went home he thought he would look at his statement, and to his surprise he found that he had received 1.02 per hundred, and that it was Neighbor I, that was robbed. Who can tell where the poor creamery manager will go when he dies?

EVANSVILLE HOUSE LED TO A LAW SUIT

JUDGE BENNETT DECIDES FOR PLAINTIFF.

Case Was Tried in the Lower Court and on the Appeal the Earlier Decision Was Reversed—Judge Phelps Will Try the Hoag Case.

The case of F. A. Baker et al vs. C. H. Wilder occupied a goodly portion of Judge Bennett's time today. The case comes from the municipal court and involves well known residents of Evansville.

Mr. Wilder built a house some two years ago, buying material from the plaintiff. There was a dispute over the settlement and a law suit resulted. On the first trial the court found in favor of the defendant. In the circuit court today Sutherland & Nolan appeared as attorneys for the plaintiff and Richmond & Smith for the defendant.

At 3 o'clock this afternoon the court ordered that the judgment of the municipal court be reversed and that the plaintiffs be given judgment for $135.99 with interest from the date of the commencement of this action with costs to be taxed.

The motion for a new trial was overruled. Defendant's attorneys then moved for a stay of proceedings for sixty days. This motion was also overruled with the understanding that if defendant decided to appeal and so advised the court, a stay of sixty days on the judgment should be allowed.

Judge Phelps Hears the Case

Judge M. M. Phelps, who recently held that he could not try the appealed justice case of Andrew S. Hoag vs. Jerome Waterman as a justice of the peace, will none the less hear the evidence tomorrow morning as judge of the municipal court. Whitehead & Matheson, attorneys for the plaintiff, and E. D. McGowan, attorney for the defendant, have agreed to commence this now well-known case before the court whose jurisdiction was questioned. The trouble arises over the collection of a commission that Hoag says is due him from Waterman for making a loan.

On one outgoing freight this morning eight tramps took passage. At the jail last night five applied for lodging.

Current History

Current History, the quarterly review published heretofore in Buffalo is now issued from Boston. It is no exaggeration to say that for any one who desires to have within reach at all times a convenient handbook giving a concise yet broad survey of the world's progress in all its phases of general interest—not merely an almanac loaded down with tables and statistics, but a clear and impartial historical summary and estimate of present-day occurrences—no equal to this invaluable magazine can be found. Appearing every three months, it puts one into much closer touch with the world's progress than the large cyclopedias, which are almost invariably some years behindhand in their information; and at the same time it avoids exaggeration, distortion and redundancy. A complete analytical and topical index is supplied with each volume.

FIGHTERS MUST FIGHT.

I hope and have some solid reasons for believing that the next champion of the world will be an American. If I am correct in my surmise that champion will be an American of whom the whole nation can be proud, a champion in fact as well as in name, and not a poser, fakir, orator or debater. I sincerely trust, and, in fact, believe, that this happy event will occur within the next year or two. I do not believe the clever letter writer of California is the man to do the trick. I am of the opinion that the orator of the antipodes can repeat his performance of Carson City and do it in less time than it took before. I will give you an idea later on who the American with the championship timber in him is, for I will analyze him to your satisfaction, I hope. The chances are that many of you have already guessed who I mean.

At the present moment let us pick up Fitzsimmons and Corbett and discuss them. Right here at the outset I have no hesitation in saying that the way both of these men have acted—Corbett in the past and Fitzsimmons at the present time—has been and is disgraceful. Neither has acted like a champion. Corbett started the ball by telling Fitzsimmons when he challenged him to beat a lot of men, Creedon, Hall, Maher and Choyinski, before he would deign to consider his challenge. The Australian gives fit for tat and has the impudence to trifle with the public by telling the Californian to go and defeat Maher or Sharkey, two good men whom Fitzsimmons conquered, before he of the freckles will consent to cross arms with him.

The public should not stand for any such nonsense. Make these alleged fighters fight or get out of the business. Let the public give their shows a frost until they sign articles to fight. Let the press roast them instead of printing their airy nothings until they consent to get into the ring. Press and public can force the issue. That fighter never breathed who could stand in the way of public opinion. It will mow him down as it has many a greater man.

Think for a moment of the insolence of this Australian and the ridiculous figure he cuts. First he wins the championship fairly enough, for I saw the fight, although many people think it was a fluke. Then he immediately "retires," although he bills himself as champion and hugs the title. Then comes in this alleged promise to his wife "never to fight again" as a stiffener against all challenges. Lastly comes the farce of the wife cutting the apron string and letting this strong man loose, free to fight again, when the funds are getting low, as the Australian's enemies say. The farce is completed by the most ridiculous proposition—acceptance of challenges it purported to be—I ever heard of. To one challenger, Corbett, Fitzsimmons says, "Go fight another man, and if you win I'll meet you." To the other challenger, "Kid" McCoy, who dared him to battle for the world's middleweight championship, which title Fitzsimmons also holds, the Australian says, "Beat a first class middleweight and then I will battle you for the middleweight championship." Unlike Corbett, McCoy, anxious to force Fitz into the ring, quickly accepts the condition and says, "Pick out your middleweight, and when I whip him I will insist on your keeping your word and meeting me." The Australian shows his insincerity by promptly picking out a heavy-weight, Joe Choyinski, a man he fought a draw with, and whom he could never be induced to meet a second time. Even at that, the boy—for McCoy is really nothing more—never weakened. He speedily agreed to meet Choyinski at 162 pounds—four pounds above the middleweight limit, a weight which Joe can easily make and above which he rarely fights. But the other side won't have it. My private opinion is that McCoy will eventually agree to meet Choyinski at any weight so as to get at Fitz, and I further believe that he can whip the plucky Californian at any weight. In that event I have a strong suspicion, practically amounting to conviction, that Fitzsimmons will dodge McCoy and take on Corbett. The "Kid" at middleweight is far more dangerous than Corbett at heavyweight, and nobody knows that better than Mr. Robert Fitzsimmons. McCoy can easily get to middleweight. I do not believe that the Australian can and be strong. He is no longer the lanky "freak" he was when he beat poor Jack Dempsey. He has grown tremendously broad across the shoulders and deep through the chest since that time. Even his spindly legs have filled out. When he fought Corbett at Carson City, he declared, and has ever since maintained, that he weighed but 155 pounds. George Siler, the referee of that battle, gives the official figures as—Corbett, 183; Fitzsimmons, 172½. Siler, of course, speaks the truth. Vanity led Fitzsimmons into uttering a pleasant little fib. He wanted the public to look upon him as a wonderful man—a middleweight who was the world's greatest gladiator. If Fitz should ever in a reckless moment consent to meet McCoy at middleweight, put your money on the handsome young chap from Indiana. The American will win to a moral certainty.

Now right here at this point I wish to enter as strongly as I can a protest against the conduct of this man Fitzsimmons. It's unsportsmanlike. Neither he nor any other champion has a right, when properly challenged, to set up any conditions whatever, not to speak of the monstrously silly ones he laid down for Corbett and McCoy. Corbett is to blame for starting such a ridiculous game, but two wrongs don't make a right. Besides, Fitzsimmons out-herods Herod. He goes further than Corbett ever did. The latter is an American, yet the public was getting very weary of his antics, and its loudly expressed opinion finally forced him to fight.

The public will stand still less from a foreigner. A word to the wise is sufficient.

A champion must fight when fairly called upon by one in his class without any "ifs" or "ands" or apron strings. Just imagine John Morrissey telling John C. Heenan when the latter challenged him to first go and whip Yankee Sullivan and Tom Hyer, and he would then battle him for the championship, or suppose the Englishman, Jim Mace, insisted upon his American rival, Joe Coburn, whipping Tom Sayers, Nat Langham and Tom Allen before he would deign to meet him for the championship, and you will have some idea how Fitzsimmons is now acting and as Corbett did in the past.

To get down to our own day, I may with pardonable pride point to the fact that I never dodged any challenges. When Kilrain, Mitchell, McCaffrey and a lot of others challenged me, I did not tell them to go and first tackle a lot of other men. I met them. Neither did I ever have any apron strings wound about me. I never heard either that Morrissey, Hyer, Yankee Sullivan, Cribb, Sayers, Mace, Coburn or any of the old time champions had any article of female apparel tacked on to them. Only a modern champion, and a foreigner at that, can indulge in such vagaries. I sincerely trust that the press and public will put an end to such nonsense. They can do it and in the way I have outlined above.

Now, who is my future American champion? I will frankly tell you. It is Norman Selby, or, as he is better known, "Kid" McCoy. Do I think he will whip Fitz right away and thus practically win the middleweight and heavyweight championships of the world? No, not just now. Fitz won't take on the boy at middleweight. Corbett is easier at heavyweight. Fitz is satisfied in his own mind that he can whip Corbett again, only that he will have to stand a lot of stinging, tantalizing punishment as he did before. That he doesn't like, of course, and would not invite, if he did not, as is generally supposed, stand in need of ready money. So I believe that he will meet Corbett some time next summer and stop all such driving talk about the Californian meeting Peter Maher or Sharkey or anybody else first. As I have already stated, I believe he will win as before. Corbett, on the other hand, really believes that he will reverse the verdict given at Carson City and get on the top of the pugilistic wave and win a barrel of money. Despite general belief to the contrary, he really wants to fight and is not talking for mere advertising purposes, for he has everything to gain and, at the worst, very little to lose.

When, as seems likely to my way of thinking, Fitz wins again from Corbett, he will speedily announce another retirement and another apron string arrangement. That will hold good for another year at least, by which time it is likely the Fitzsimmons' coffers will need refilling and Robert forced by necessity, as well as public opinion, to fight again, for by that time "Kid" McCoy, now but 24 years of age and not yet fully developed, will be a big strapping fellow, fully rounded out, stripping at 180 pounds or thereabout and possessed of magnificent strength. By that time he will have mowed down all the heavyweights and will be clamoring for a battle for the world's championship with Mr. Fitzsimmons. They will come together and the Australian meet his Waterloo.

A brief analysis of the two men and their methods will tell you why I come to this conclusion. When the boxers meet at the time I have guessed at, McCoy will have the advantage of youth by at least ten years. He will be more clever than the Australian, have a slight advantage in reach, and I think, too, in quickness. McCoy will be every whit as strong as Fitz by this time, very likely as hard a hitter, for the young man will go forward and the elder man backward, and have a few pounds the advantage in weight. There won't be a trick in the game McCoy won't know, and Fitz's clever and successful feints, which deceived and brought down Hall, Maher and Corbett, will be lost on McCoy.

Now as to the mental make up of the two men. McCoy is the ideal fighter in this scientific age. He is a perfect iceberg in the ring—cool, alert, wary, always keeping out of the way of danger and never failing to score a point on an adversary when he loses his head or makes a slip of any kind. He will be even better in a year and a half or thereabout than he is now.

Fitz, on the other hand, while tricky, cunning and resourceful, frequently loses his head, and two or three times in his career came near losing battles upon which he had banked his future. Twice he came within an ace of losing with Peter Maher on account of this fault and once with Joe Choyinski. They say also he had a close call with Jim Hall. He won out, however, and is entitled to every credit. If he ever loses his head with "Kid" McCoy, he is done for the moment he does.

Just stick a pin in the predictions I have made herein and see whether or not I possess any merit as a prophet.

Adulteration of Dress Silks.

An English chemist has recently analyzed a sample of a silk dress that was submitted to him by a lady. He found that it contained only a fraction over 28 per cent of silk, and as much tin was found in it as that present in poor tie ores from Cornwall. The tin occurs in the so-called weighting of the silk. The chemist states that he at once realized the fact that the silk dresses worn by the ladies in Regent street and Bond street, London, taken together, would represent a Cornish tin-mine of very fair quality. He was informed by an expert that the silk he had examined would not stand more than three months' steady wear.

The Costa Rican Counterfeiters

For many months the Costa Rican counterfeiters have been issuing bogus notes of the government of the island until the amount, it is said, has reached $1,000,000. Inspectors of the secret service bureau were chiefly instrumental in bringing the malefactors to justice. The efficiency of the secret service is undoubted, but it is by no means a secret, but a patent fact, that the service the Hostetter's Stomach Bitters does the weak, nervous and dyspepsia is of genuine value. There have been from time to time counterfeiters of it, as of the genuine Costa Rican notes, but the miniature note of hand on the label and the vignette of St. George and the Dragon, coupled with the exquisitely finished typographical work, are not successfully imitable. Any one who has used the Bitters knows its admirable qualities and the features of the exterior of the bottles. This agreeable tonic absolutely prevents and remedies malaria, liver complaint, kidney trouble and dyspepsia.

THE OVERFLOW OF LOCAL NEWS

WESTERN FOOTBALL RULES WISCONSIN NEWS IN BRIEF FARM INSTITUTE BULLETIN

The Code as Revised By Prof. Stagg and H. Everett

The revised football rules, over which Prof. A. A. Stagg of Chicago university, and H. Everett of the university of Illinois have been poring for more than a month have been sent out after a final conference. The rules must now be submitted to the seven universities which united in appointing a committee and a hard fight is likely over their adoption.

Alterations in the rules are less sweeping than many anticipated. The vital change in that radically altering the present system of scoring. The goal after a touchdown is slated to count for only one additional point the drop-kick for four, the place kick for three, and the safety for two. There is no requirement for seven men in the line, but it is provided that if two linemen are drawn back of the line they shall be outside of the line of scrimmage. Another safeguard against roughness is that of imposing a distance penalty for laying hands on opponents before the ball is put into play.

An important alteration is also that permitting to the side scored on the choice of kicking off. Other changes suggested are defining the safety, allowing fifteen yards instead of ten on the kick-off and after a kick for goal on the first down, permitting only two minutes of time taken out for injuries and modifying the penalty impositions when the ball is close to the goal line. The committee reserves several suggestions on duties of officials which will be submitted if the committee is continued.

"DARKEST RUSSIA" COMING

Play to Be Seen at the Myers Grand on Tuesday

The amusement loving public is on the tip-toe of expectancy by reason of the announcement that one of the greatest dramatic successes of modern times, "Darkest Russia," will appear at the Myers Grand on Tuesday, Jan. 25. This state of public feeling is undoubtedly due to the knowledge that there are few plays which have met with the enthusiastic success that has everywhere greeted this masterpiece of stage realism. In sentiment "Darkest Russia" is especially rich, in instructive features it possesses a great charm to all Americans, and in its amusing parts it has recognized merit. As implied in the title, it has to do with the Russian empire, tells a story of heart interest of its people and gives an insight into the prevailing laws. Dramatic genius is used to the full extent in placing these facts before the people, while the admirable way in which Manager Ellis has selected the actors and staged the play, makes it one of the most realistic as well as one of the most entertaining of productions. "Darkest Russia" is a play that can be seen not only with profit but with lasting pleasure.

Eleventh Annual Report Issued By Supt. George McKerron

Wisconsin Farmers' Institute Bulletin No 11, is out. A report of the annual closing institute, together with a limited amount of such matter as would make it valuable to the farmer and his family. Sixty thousand copies of this book have been issued, which will be distributed free at the 106 institutes held throughout this state the coming winter. The legislature of 1895 recognized the worth of the Bulletin above other State agricultural publications, by authorizing the Superintendent of Institutes to turn over 8,000 bound copies to the Superintendent of Public Instruction, that a copy might be placed in each circulating district school library. In addition to this are sent out a limited number to cheese factory and creamery men of this state, and to farmers in localities not reached by Institute, for distribution among their patrons and neighbors. They also mail them outside the state upon receipt of twenty-five cents for paper covers and forty cents for cloth bound; to Wisconsin farmers they are sent for ten cents in paper and twenty-five cents in cloth.

Great Britain Wants More Seamen.

London, Jan. 21.—There has been a responsible statement that the government has decided to add 7,000 men to the navy and that the first-class battleship Hannibal, now at Portsmouth, is to be put into commission at once. There is, however, no official confirmation in either case.

Hotel for Men.

From the Washington Post: "There is a hotel in Philadelphia that is run for the male tribe exclusively," said E. D. Lessor of the Quaker City at the Ebbitt. "A man is ever welcome, but he can't bring with him his wife, mother, sister or aunt. Since its portals were first thrown open no woman's face has ever been seen in lobby, corridor or dining-room. Not only are female guests rigidly excluded, but women are boycotted as help about that hostelry. No woman cook, chambermaid or seamstress has ever set foot on the premises, and yet the house is a model of cleanliness and order. The place has had a long and prosperous career, and while the present proprietor lives will be run on the same lines. I have heard of one or two hotels in other parts of the country that have been modeled after this one, but don't know whether their experience has been successful."

CATARRH OF THE STOMACH

A Pleasant, Simple, But Safe and Effectual Cure for It.

Catarrh of the stomach has long been considered the next thing to incurable. The usual symptoms are a full or bloating sensation after eating, accompanied sometimes with sour or watery risings, a formation of gases, causing pressure on the heart and lungs and difficult breathing; headaches, sickle appetite, nervousness and a general played out, languid feeling.

There is often a foul taste in the mouth, coated tongue and if the interior of the stomach could be seen it would show a slimy, inflamed condition.

This common and obstinate trouble is found in a treatment which causes the food to be readily, thoroughly digested before it has time to ferment and irritate the delicate mucous surfaces of the stomach. To secure a prompt and healthy digestion is the one necessary thing to do and when normal digestion is secured the catarrhal condition will have disappeared.

According to Dr. Harlanston the safest and best treatment is to use after each meal a tablet, composed of Diastase, Aspicin, Pepsin, a little Nux, Golden Seal and fruit acids. These tablets can now be found at all drug stores under the name of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, and not being a patent medicine can be used with perfect safety and assurance that healthy appetite and thorough digestion will follow their regular use after meals.

Mr. N. J. Booher, of 2710 Dearborn St., Chicago, Ill., writes: "Catarrh is a local condition resulting from a neglected cold in the head, whereby the lining membrane of the nose becomes inflamed and the poisonous discharge therefrom passing backward into the throat reaches the stomach, thus producing catarrh of the stomach. Medical authorities prescribed for me for three years a course of stomach without cure, but today I am the happiest of men after using only one box of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. I cannot find appropriate words to express my good feeling. I have found flesh, appetite and sound rest from their use."

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets is the safest preparation as well as the simplest and most convenient remedy for any form of indigestion, catarrh of stomach, biliousness, sour stomach, heartburn and bloating after meals.

Send for little book, mailed free, on stomach troubles, by addressing Stuart Co., Marshall, Mich. The tablets can be found at all drug stores.

A'cheap' Sewing Machine May Be Too Cheap.

BUYING MACHINES FROM strangers is costly business. We sell machines as cheap as reliable machines can be put on the market. We back them with a positive five year guarantee—our personal guarantee and the maker's. The makers are the National Sewing Machine Co. of Belvidere, one of the largest concerns in the country. They turn out 500 machines a day, and can build thoroughly good machines on the closest possible margins. We show four of their best sellers:

- At $16 "Expert".
- At $20 "Seamstress."
- At $25 "Eldredge B."
- At $30 Eldredge B (Drop Head.)

OUR $16 machine is worth two of any other low-priced machine on the market and is backed by a sweeping five year guarantee. Every part is case hardened. All parts are interchangeable, so that repairs can be had on a day's notice. The machines will last a life time. They are built by skilled mechanics. They are built in a factory; not in a foundry. They are backed by a responsible firm and if anything goes wrong you know where to come.

January Cloak Business..

Is good--better than usual in this month, but whether it is because there's more money in circulation or that we are giving better values than ever before, we cannot tell. Certain it is that business in the cloak department reminds us of the busy times during early season. Of course there are many reasons why women are buying cloaks at this time, the most important being that the new and stylish coats which have been priced at $9 to $15 can be bought today a $5.00, and coats which have been up to $7.50 are now down to $2.87. This applies to misses' jackets as well as to ladies' garments, whether jackets or capes. It is well to have in mind that the line of new, stylish garments which we show at this time is larger and more complete than the average store shows at the beginning of a season. For large women we have plenty of good coats in 40, 42, 44 and 46 bust measure at both the above prices---$2.87 and $5.00.

Gaiter Leggings--For ladies, misses and children in six sizes, made of black jersey cloth, with buttons and straps, Prices 75c to $1.35 according to size. No gaiter on the market to equal them for warmth.

Fleece Lined Hosiery--Have all sizes, in two qualities for ladies--25c and 35c, and at the prices they are excellent value. For children, have a line, sizes 6 to 9 1/2, at 10c and 12 1/2c

All lines of Winter Goods are priced low.
